This mid-terrace property is situated on Queensgate, Burnley, and offers spacious accommodation with excellent potential for further renovation and reconfiguration. Originally a three-bedroom home, alterations have been made to create an additional shower room, but with renovation works, the property could potentially be converted back to provide three bedrooms.

On entering, a vestibule leads into the main living room, which features a gas fire with a back boiler. To the rear is an L-shaped kitchen/diner, fitted with matching wall, base and drawer units, along with space for freestanding appliances.

To the first floor, the property was originally arranged with two single bedrooms and a larger double bedroom. Adaptations have altered the layout, with one of the bedrooms converted into a shower room and the partition wall repositioned. With works, this area could potentially be reconfigured to restore two single bedrooms.

The separate WC has been updated with modern white panels, a low-level WC and hand wash basin, while the main double bedroom is positioned to the front of the property.

Externally, the property benefits from a private rear yard, providing a useful outdoor space.

With its existing accommodation and potential to reinstate the original three-bedroom layout, this property could be an ideal project for buyers looking to add value through renovation.
